ROSY OUTLOOK
There's nothing like a Cath Kidston retro rose-printed bedspread to get you and your home into a bright spring mood. And you can now enjoy the same rosy glow in your bathroom with the brand's new body collection. Packaged in vintage-style bottles and pots, they'll give your bathroom a glamorous feel, plus they're paraben- and sulphate-free. Cath Kidston Rose Body Wash, £10.95

LONDON, PARIS, THE WORLD!
Global fashion brands just got that little bit closer to home
Banana Republic has arrived in the UK, meaning we can now pick up its chic, quintessentially American basics without having to cross the Atlantic. Check out the flagship store on London's Regent Street.
Terminal Five Heathrow is due to open this month, and there's a whole array of gorgeous boutiques to put you at risk of missing your flight, from Mulberry, Links of London and Paul Smith Globe to Europe's only Coach store.
Petit Bateau has opened a child-friendly new store on London's King's Road, with themed rooms for your little darlings to play in while you browse to your heart's content.

BOUTIQUE DIRECTORY
Still hunting for your retail nirvana? Add Anni to your little black book – you'll find stylish pieces from labels including Nicole Farhi (left), Melina Berger and Tracey Boyd. And if you can't make it to one of the five stores (Norfolk, Suffolk and three in London), shop online at www.shopannia.co.uk. To nominate your favourite boutiques, go to www.uktv.co.uk/boutiquedirectory.

WE LOVE... LIMITED EDITIONS

- Marks & Spencer smalls are the heroes of many a girl's delicates drawer, and their Limited Collection offers all the same comfort and value, with sexy prints and cuts. Bra, £12; knickers, £5.
- What better occasion than a birthday to spoil yourself? Jewellery boutique EC One celebrated its first decade by commissioning this 18ct white gold, quartz and diamond Stephen Webster ring, £4,200, made to order.
- Get down to Joseph to nab yourself one of just 50 pairs of these stylish Oliver Goldsmith sunglasses with Vasa case, £800.
